Sugar Bowl Bakery Receives U.S. Department of Commerce Supplier of the Year Award

SAN FRANCISCO, CA – September 9th, 2007 - Sugar Bowl Bakery announced today that it received the U.S Department of Commerce's Minority Business Development Agency's "Supplier of the Year" award. The national award was presented to the company during MBDA's annual Minority Enterprise Development (MED) conference which honored the achievements of America's top businesses. The awards banquet was attended by numerous minority-owned businesses, government representatives, and corporate members.

"As first time recipients of this prestigious award, we are truly grateful to be recognized by one of our nation's top government agencies. It represents how far our business has grown and the wealth of opportunities this country has to offer to ambitious entrepreneurs," said Andrew Ly, President/CEO of Sugar Bowl Bakery.

As an agency that promotes growth for minority-owned businesses, MBDA named several outstanding MBE entrepreneurs of the year as well as national directors of the year that have shown a commitment to diversity. The ceremony was held at the Westin St. Francis on August 31, 2007 in San Francisco, California.

Said Ly, "We would like to thank MBDA for being a tremendous resource for MBEs and for paving the way to ensure our success. In May of this year, we also won the U.S. Pan Asian-American Chamber of Commerce Asian Business Leadership award and recently listed as one of the Top 5000 Fastest Growing Companies in the U.S by Inc. Magazine. The combined efforts of all of these organizations really help make small businesses grow which form the backbone of our nation's economy. We would also like to thank our valued clients, our dedicated staff, and the community organizations that all gave us their support and opportunity to succeed."
