Sugar Bowl Bakery Receives Asian Business Leadership Award

SAN FRANCISCO, CA – May 14th, 2007 - Ly Brothers Corporation dba Sugar Bowl Bakery announced today that it received the Wells Fargo Bank and US Pan Asian-American Chamber of Commerce (USPAACC) Asian Business Leadership award. The prestigious award was presented to the company at USPAACC's 22nd annual Asian-American business conference. The conference was held at the Westin St. Francis hotel in San Francisco, California this year and was attended by numerous API businesses, government representatives, and corporate members.

"After immigrating to the United States in 1980 with nothing in our pockets, we feel truly grateful for receiving this award. It represents how far we've come and how much one can achieve with hard work," said Andrew Ly, President/CEO of Ly Brothers Corporation. "We are especially proud to be grouped together with hundreds of successful Asian-American owned businesses, all of which represent the true American entrepreneurial spirit."

Cascade Springs LLC and Harlan Lee and Associates LLC both also won the Asian Business Leadership award. The three companies recognized came from a national pool of applicants and all won because of their combined accomplishments in business success, innovation, and philanthropic initiatives.

Said Ly, "We applaud Wells Fargo for its Asian Business Services program. The program provides essential education and access to financial capital to aspiring API business owners, which in turn, helps thousands to realize their dreams. We also would like to thank the US Pan-Asian American Chamber of Commerce for being an invaluable resource by bridging relationships between API businesses, corporations, and the government. The efforts of Wells Fargo and USPAACC truly make it possible for our national economy to grow and for our Asian-American communities to succeed."
