Sugar Bowl Bakery Receives Superior Rating in Food Safety Audit

SAN FRANCISCO, CA – October 12, 2006 – Sugar Bowl Bakery, an award winning retail and wholesale bakery, today announced it received a superior rating from a recent food safety audit. The comprehensive inspection was conducted by the American Institute of Baking, an organization committed to food safety and baking education.

“While we are proud to have passed through our audit smoothly, we are not surprised by the results,” said Andrew Ly, President/CEO of Sugar Bowl Bakery. “Since the inception of our company, we have implemented effective practices to achieve our number one priority, to produce desserts that taste great, are safe to eat, and are made in a clean environment.”

In addition to AIB audits, Sugar Bowl Bakery is also annually inspected by NSF- Cook and Thurber, another leading institution committed to providing food safety services. NSF has awarded Sugar Bowl Bakery consistently excellent ratings in the past as well.

Said Ly, “With the recent e.coli scare found in our produce, today’s consumer is increasingly concerned about how the food they consume is handled. We are pleased to be awarded a superior rating from AIB and hope that our consumers will continue to eat our baked goods worry-free.”
